COURT GRANTS NO INTEGRATION DELAY

No Appeasement, No Retreat

U.S. President Draws Line On Red Advance in Pacific

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has drawn the line against Communist aggression in the western Pacific in a momentous speech telling Red China to stop pushing and negotiate or be prepared to fight.

Immediate bipartisan congressional reaction to his White House address Thursday night was strongly favorable.

It remained to be seen whether Red China and the Soviet Union—accused by Eisenhower of "working hand in hand" to enslave the western Pacific—would take him at his word.

Neither has indicated any heed to previous warnings by Secretary of State Dulles and other top U.S. officials. Peiping Thursday unleashed the heaviest artillery barrage yet on the blockaded offshore island of Quemoy. Soviet Premier Khrushchev told a rally of 100,000 cheering Russians at Stalingrad last night that any attack on Red China would be considered an attack on the Soviet Union.

Eisenhower interrupted his vacation to make the blunt speech, perhaps the strongest of his career.

In his nationwide radio-TV address, beamed around the world in 40 languages by the Voice of America, he deplored the bombardment of Quemoy. He called it a tragic affair which already has killed or wounded 1,000 persons—mostly civilians.

But the issue, he said, was not the defense of the tiny islands. He pledged: "No American boy will ever be asked by me to fight just for Quemoy."

The issue, he said, was: "Shall we take the position that, submitting to threat, it is better to surrender pieces of free territory in the hope that this will satisfy the appetite of the aggressor and we shall have peace?"

Contending the answer is no, the President said the free world must fight if necessary for that principle.

The democracies tried appeasement at Munich and failed to prevent—in fact brought on—World War II, he said, and "I never want to see that history repeated."

He said the Reds are probing, testing, and their bluff must be called or "tragedy after tragedy would befall us."

Eisenhower coupled this warning to the Communists and appeal to the free world with an urgent bid for negotiation—between the United States and Red China or, if that fails, in the United Nations.

"There is not going to be any appeasement," he said. "I believe that there is not going to be any war."

Darby Dandy Wins 4-H Beef Show at County Junior Fair

Pretty, blonde, 15-year-old Nancy Huffman walked off with top honors in yesterday's 4-H beef show at the Pickaway County Fair.

Her Shorthorn steer, a 1,090-pound dandy with no name, won Grand Champion honors. The steer will be the No. 1 target for buyers at tonight's 4-H livestock sale in the show barn at the Fairgrounds.

Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Huffman, Harrisburg. She's a sophomore at Grove City High School and a member of the Darby Fine and Dandy 4-H Club. She was Grove City FFA queen last year.

Nancy's triumph was no surprise, since the steer came from a long line of champs. The steer was part of a cow-calf project. Nancy showed last year and its mother was grand champ Shorthorn here four years ago.

The reserve champion was shown by Carroll Grabill, another member of the Darby Fine and Dandy 4-H Club. It was a sharp Angus Steer.

NANCY SAYS she hopes to sell her prize-winner tonight for a premium. The money? It will go into the sock for a "rainy day", says Nancy.

The Madison Livestock 4-H Club

copped the trophy for club group of four animals. Senior Beef showmanship was won by Eddie Dountz, Duvall Go Getters.

Fair Sidelights

The Pickaway County Fair coliseum was placed in dire straits for a short time last night when a fuse blew, causing the coliseum to be engulfed in darkness.

Electrician Paul Counts was called and immediately made the necessary repairs to relieve the confusion.

The Pickaway County Chapter of the American Red Cross booth treated and released six persons yesterday at the fair.

They included Dwight Bougher, Route 1, Laurelville, abrasion; Douglas Dunkle, Route 3, cut on the forearm; Cheryl Martin, Route 2, Williamsport, a calf stepped on her big toe for which she was advised to see her physician;

Dick Myers, Route 2, Orient, and Sam Cornwell, Route 2, cuts on fingers, and Frank Barton, Adelphi, burn on left thumb.

Nurses in attendance were Mrs. Gladys Robinson, Mrs. Derela Dixon, Mrs. Fern Schwarz and Mrs. Geneva Archer. Jack Wise was standing by with the Deffenbaugh ambulance.

It is amazing to witness the youngsters perform at the fair in the livestock and horsemanship exhibitions and contests. In the cattle showing, the Vincent sisters,

Attendance Up As Fair Moves Into Last Day

Livestock Sale Top Attraction On the Schedule

Sunny skies continued to smile on the Pickaway County Fair today with record-breaking crowds turning out for the festivities.

The 4-H dairy show was well under way at noon today, but the highlights of the activities at the Fairgrounds were the 4-H livestock sale and harness racing at 7:30 and 8 p. m. tonight.

A record crowd turned out in clear and chilly weather last night for the biggest night of the fair, to date. They watched a Home Economics revue in the Coliseum, harness racing on the track and attended the junior fair square dance.

Tomorrow's schedule calls for an auto rodeo at 9 a. m., pony pulling contest at 1 p. m., grand champion apple pie contest at 4 p. m. horse shoe pitching championship at 6 p. m. and Western Horse show at 7:30 p. m. in front of the grandstand.

Meanwhile, about eight of the top 4-H members in the county were preparing to attend the Ohio 4-H Club Congress at Ohio State University from tomorrow to next Wednesday. Most of the livestock will be leaving the Fairgrounds tomorrow.

THE WEATHER forecast shows there will be no rain before late Monday and the mercury will climb slowly in that period.

There has been no estimate of the crowd during the last two days, but fair weather, though cool, and attendance at the various functions indicated that more people are attending the fair than ever before. According to Fair Manager William Cook, there have been few hitches and mixups in the fair program this year.

Frenchmen Find U.S. Jet Is Quiet

PARIS (AP)—The first American jet passenger plane flew into Le Bourget Airport today. Persons living near the field had no complaints about the noise of the Boeing 707.

The Pan American World Airways four-jet plane has been undergoing tests in London and New York in an effort to satisfy airport authorities there that it is not objectionable.

The airline hopes to put Boeing 707s into regular transatlantic passenger service beginning Nov. 1 if officials at New York's Idlewild Airfield decide it is quiet enough.

Little Rock Told To Enroll Negroes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Supreme Court, in a unanimous decision of profound import, today decreed an immediate go-ahead on racial integration at Little Rock's Central High School.

Acting swiftly after convening at 12:11 p.m., Chief Justice Warren announced that the court had struck down a 2½-year delay order issued by a U.S. District Court judge.

The decision signaled a probable great new clash of federal vs. state power. Central High is due to open Monday. But Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas, has vowed to oppose forced integration; he has said he would close the school first.

Justice Warren, in a brief announcement for the entire court, said prompt action by the high tribunal was deemed important because of the imminent opening of the high school.

A detailed, written decision will be issued by the court later. The South, and the world at large, must wait for this before getting any new definition of what the court meant when it said in 1955 that the process of ending segregation of the races in public schools must proceed with "all deliberate speed."

Though of far-reaching significance, the decision today dealt only with Central High—scene of violence and the use of federal troops to enforce integration during the last school year. In the case of Central High, the court left no doubt that deliberate speeds means a resumption of the integration process, here and now.

Gov. Faubus, when told of the decision, merely nodded. Later he told newsmen he probably wouldn't have any comment today.

However, it was generally believed at the Arkansas state capital that he will take immediate action to close the school. A recent special legislative session empowered him to do so if he saw fit.

Attorneys for the Little Rock School Board expressed disappointment.

Wayne Upton, president of the Little Rock Board of Education said, "Naturally, we will have to try to operate under it (the decision)," he said. "We, of course do not know what Gov. Faubus plans to do but if he orders us to close the school we will close the school."

The chief justice read a two-page printed opinion which was signed "per curiam" — meaning by the court.

The opinion stated that the court... "having fully deliberated upon the oral arguments had on Aug. 28, as supplemented by the arguments on Sept. 11, and all the briefs on file, is unanimously of the opinion that the judgment of the Court of Appeals for the 8th Circuit (St. Louis) of Aug. 18 must be affirmed."

Warren added for the court that in view of the imminent start of the new school year at Central High, "we deem it important to make prompt announcement of our judgment affirming the Court of Appeals."

Warren said an opinion giving views of the justices and supporting today's decision, "will be prepared and announced in due course."

This will give the court time to set forth in detail its views on the specific issue of whether disorder and violence are sufficient legal grounds for suspending a plan of integration once it has been put in operation.

It also will afford the court the opportunity, if it sees fit, to elaborate on its 1955 command for desegregation in public schools "with all deliberate speed."

The document thus could lay down guidelines for federal judges in dealing with integration cases.

The chief justice stated that the

LeMay Flight Is Faster Than Clock

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Curtis E. LeMay flew a KC135 jet tanker to a Tokyo-Washington speed record today.

The vice chief of staff of the U.S. Air Force flew the 7,100 miles in 12 hours and 28 minutes. This was about an hour and seven minutes faster than a flight last April by Brig. Gen. William Eubank, a Strategic Air Command officer.

LeMay was at the controls of the big jet as it taxied to a stop at nearby Andrews Air Force Base. He lighted his ever-present cigar as he stepped to the ground.

The general, returning from a tour of U.S. Far Eastern air bases which included Formosa, told a newsmen the jet tanker was helped by tail winds during the long flight, the wind adding an extra 60 or 70 miles an hour at times.

The average speed was 570 m.p.h. Most of the route was flown at altitudes between 35,000 and 40,000 feet.

By flying across the international date line the big ship reached here—so far as the clock and the calendar are concerned—32 minutes before its takeoff from Japan. That figure was computed by Maj. Lawrence Tacker, one of the navigators.

Mixing Order Closes School

Virginia Board Shuns Integration Verdict

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Warren County's only high school closes at the end of classes today as the direct result of a federal court order that the white school admit 22 Negroes.

The county school board announced the "temporary suspension" of the school at Front Royal Thursday. The board said the Negroes would be enrolled Saturday and Monday. Under Virginia law, the assignment or enrollment of any Negro pupil in a white school automatically closes that school.

The school officials came to Richmond to talk over their problem with Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. and state legal aides.

It was not known what action might come from the meeting.

At a news conference, Almond hinted — without further explanation—the state may have yet another plan that could keep schools from either being integrated or closed this year.

Supt. Q. D. Gasque said he did not know how long the school at Front Royal would be suspended, but he expected a formal closing order from the state by Monday.

The school board has not considered or discussed the possibility of asking Almond to allow the school to operate on an integrated basis without state funds, he said. He knew of no plans anywhere in the county to establish a private school system for the pupils involved.

When a school is closed under Virginia's massive resistance to integration laws, its control passes to the governor. He is obligated to try to reorganize and reopen it on a segregated basis.

Once an integrated school is opened, all state funds to that school and to all schools of its class—elementary or secondary—are immediately cut off.

Gasque has said previously the county does not have enough money to operate its schools by itself.

Federal Dist. Judge John Paul ordered the Negroes admitted to the Warren County school last Monday. He said a governing factor was that the county did not operate a Negro high school but sent Negro pupils to neighboring counties.

Chief Judge Simon E. Sobeloff of the U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals refused to grant a stay of Paul's order.

U.S. Navy Agrees To Help Russians

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP)—The U.S. Navy is going to help supply a Russian aerial reconnaissance team in the antarctic.

Rear Adm. George Dufek, commander of the U.S. antarctic expedition, said today that the American base at McMurdo Sound will provide 1,600 gallons of fuel for the Russian plane.

The Russian expedition asked American support so it could reconnoiter part of a route for the proposed transantarctic tractor train in the 1959-60 season.

Pie Baking Test Is Won By Mrs. Bailey

Mrs. Harry Bailey, Pinckney St., took top honors in the apple pie contest yesterday. She has entered a pie each day of the fair. She received first place award of a $5 gift certificate from Ward's Market.

Although only four entries in the contest, the judges, Mrs. Dick Tootle and Mrs. Clarence Cunningham, had a hard time choosing the best of the four pies.

Mrs. Dorothy Dennis, Ashville, took second place winner, was awarded a $4 gift certificate from Pickaway Dairy. Third place was won by Mrs. Don Miller, Route 1, and fourth, Mrs. Mabel Downs, Circleville.

Homemakers of Pickaway County are reminded only one day remains to compete for the grand champion apple pie baker. The daily winner will compete in the cook-off contest Saturday.

A silver serving tray will be awarded to the grand champion at 4 p. m. Saturday when the winner is announced.

Three motorists were cited into Circleville Municipal Court today on traffic violation charges.

Dorise Howard, Route 3, Mt. Sterling, was fined $25 and costs for no operator's license. She was arrested by the sheriff's department.

Clarence Nicholson, 35, Columbus, paid $15 and costs for speeding at 75 miles per hour. He was arrested by the State Highway Patrol.

Donald R. Haugh, 25, of 830 Atwater Ave., was fined $10 and costs for speeding at 70 miles per hour. The court suspended the fine and costs.

Chillicothe Man Receives Term In Reformatory

Harry Lee Davis, 21, Route 1, Chillicothe, was sentenced to the Ohio State Reformatory, Mansfield, today in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court.

Rollie Tigner, 434 E. Union St., also appeared to change his plea from innocent to guilty on the charge of driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants.

Tigner was sentenced to the county jail for three days, fined $100 and costs and relieved of his driver's license for six months. He was arrested Oct. 6, 1957, by city police and bound over to the county common pleas court on Oct. 18, 1957 after pleading innocent in Circleville Municipal Court. He was indicted by the January grand jury.

Davis received a sentence from one to 20 years in the reformatory. He pleaded guilty to conversion recently, in violation of his probationary period.

DAVIS was on probation for forgery and uttering a forged instrument. His conversion crime was for selling an automobile tire which didn't belong to him.

The judge had previously extended Davis's probation period. He was before him in October, 1957, for breaking probation by becoming intoxicated.

Davis, who is wanted in Ross County for auto theft, was told that he had been given all the breaks under the court's jurisdiction and this sentence was mandatory.

judgment of the Supreme Court "shall be effective immediately, and shall be communicated forthwith to the District Court for the Eastern District of Arkansas."

Lemley's decision was overruled by a 6-1 vote of the St. Louis appeals court.

It was not indicated how soon the Supreme Court might issue its more detailed views. Because of the momentous issues involved, it was not unlikely the court might take considerable time.

The judges now resume their interrupted summer vacation. They will open their regular 1958-59 term Oct. 6.

One of the arguments made to the high court by the attorney for the Little Rock School Board was that the law was now cloudy.

After today's decision, Thurgood Marshall, counsel for the Negro children, told newsmen that "with this clearcut judgment, the legal atmosphere around Central High School is now cleared up and neither the School Board nor the governor nor anyone else in Arkansas can even pretend not to know what the law is."

"Anything now done to prevent desegregation in Arkansas," Marshall told reporters, "is in open defiance of the law."

This refers to U.S. Dist. Judge Harry J. Lemley who ruled June 21 that integration should be suspended until January 1961. Lemley acted on a petition from the Little Rock School Board.

In Little Rock, the mood of the people was reported even harder against integration than it was a year ago when mob violence resulted in the use of federal troops to enforce court - order integration at Central High.

Meanwhile, the Justice Department had an augmented force of deputy U. S. marshals and a special four-man legal team on hand in the tense city for possible use in helping carry out any integration order from the Supreme Court.

The 3½ hours of arguments before the Supreme Court Thursday were mainly repetitive of those made two weeks earlier when the tribunal interrupted its summer recess to consider an intermediate phase of the Little Rock case.

At the time, the high court decided to delay a decision until it could consider the basic question in the case — whether to uphold or overturn a decision by Federal District Judge Harry J. Lemley of Hope, Ark., permitting a 30-month suspension of integration at Central High.

The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis last month rejected the delay ordered by Lemley. The Little Rock school board has asked the Supreme Court to set aside the appeals court ruling and uphold Lemley.

As he did in the previous hearing, school board lawyer Richard C. Butler pleaded for a delay in integration to permit time to work out a solution of the problem in a calmer atmosphere.

Under questioning by justices, Butler said the board has never challenged the constitutionality of that high court's integration decisions. But he said the school authorities have been placed in "an untenable position in a conflict between the state and federal governments."

And as before, opposing lawyers speaking for the government and for the seven Negro pupils trying to get back into Central High argued that a delay in resuming integration would mean yielding to mob violence and threats of such violence.

Chief Justice Warren and several other justices asked Butler what the school board would do during the 2½ years, if such a delay in integration were allowed. The school board lawyer said the group has a tentative plan. Without going into details, he said, "The board has felt it would be best to let things simmer down, but as promptly as could be possible to attempt to act as differences are reconciled."

One reason the board wants a delay, Butler said, is to permit time for court tests of various state anti-integration laws.

Fire Victims Thankful for Local Help

Mr. and Mrs. John Rittenhouse and family of eight, left homeless when fire destroyed their home last week, today expressed warm thanks to local citizens who have helped them in their plight.

Flames which engulfed their five-room home destroyed all furniture and all clothing except what members of the family were wearing. The fire was caused by a kerosene stove explosion.

According to Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff, several local citizens have donated clothing and other essentials to the family. One anonymous giver donated $50, the same amount that Rittenhouse had spent in buying school clothing for his children.

Greatest problem facing the Rittenhouse family is obtaining a place to live. The children presently are staying in Stoutsville with relatives.

SHERIFF Radcliff explained that clothing and other articles could be brought to his office for distribution to the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Rittenhouse have five boys and three girls. The boys are age 6 months, 2, 8, 10 and 12. The girls are 6, 14 and 19.

Mrs. Rittenhouse could use clothing size 12. Mr. Rittenhouse wears trousers with waist size 32 and size 15 shirts.

The school board lawyer said the group has a tentative plan. Without going into details, he said, "The board has felt it would be best to let things simmer down, but as promptly as could be possible to attempt to act as differences are reconciled."

Ike Pondering Vast Hike in Federal Taxes

Gasoline Levies, Postal Rates May Get Boost To Offset Deficit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration is weighing the possibility of a billion-dollar increase in gasoline taxes and postal rates. The aim: to help offset red ink spending that will push the national debt to a record peak this year.

Budget Director Maurice H. Stans said officials will decide within 60 days whether to ask Congress for such boosts.

Stans briefed newsmen Thursday on new figures for the biggest, most unbalanced budget in peacetime history.

For the 1959 fiscal year which began July 1, the Budget Bureau's midyear review forecast a deficit of $12,223,000,000—the highest since World War II.

In announcing the new figure, Stans said the administration will hold up spending of more than a billion dollars of extra defense funds voted by Congress for weapons procurement over a period of years. The total included 320 million authorized for the current fiscal year.

President Eisenhower, in his January budget message to Congress, had predicted a 1959 budget surplus of $66 million dollars, but shrinking revenues and higher spending prospects soon outdated that estimate.

The bureau said spending will soar to $79,223,000,000, more than five billion above the January estimate and some seven billion above actual outlays last year. Increased spending for farm programs and antirecession projects accounted for most of the rise.

Revenues will drop to 67 billion dollars, the bureau said. This is almost 7½ billion below the January calculation and two billion below 1958 collections.

This prospective drop was blamed on a recession slump in corporation income tax, down $3,700,000,000, and excise payments, off $80 million. Individual income taxes, while hitting a new peak total, are expected to be 2½ billions less than earlier estimates.

The budget chief said the latest estimates assume the recovery movement will continue through the fiscal year at its present rate. Stans said the special fund for the national superhighway construction program will be in the red by 900 million dollars in the 1960 fiscal year which begins July 1. Unless Congress increases user taxes on gasoline and tires, he

Nationalists Halt Convoys As Reds Continue Heavy Fire

TAIPEI (AP)—The Chinese Nationalists held back another attempt to run the Communist blockade of Quemoy today while the Reds peppered the offshore islands with more artillery fire.

As the Formosa Strait crisis rounded out a third week, Nationalist military headquarters reported Red shore batteries sprayed nearly 30 shells on Quemoy and the nearby Nationalist islands of Little Quemoy, Erhshan and Tien.

Although the shelling was comparatively light, the Nationalists decided against trying again to push supplies to the besieged island in the face of the Red gunfire which foiled the last two attempts.

There was no official indication, however, that the Nationalists had abandoned their efforts.

Some Nationalist military men and the Taipei press voiced demands for more American action in getting supplies to Quemoy. They wrote off as ineffective the use of U.S. warships to escort the supply ships across the Formosa Strait only to within three miles of Quemoy.

Associated Press correspondent James Cary, who was aboard a Nationalist supply ship which was forced under Red shelling Thursday to pull off the beach at Quemoy before unloading, said the grim fact is "that the Communist blockade is highly effective and critically serious."

There was increasing talk in Nationalist quarters of air dropping supplies to the beleaguered island and aerial assaults on Red artillery positions on the mainland.

The biggest barrage so far of the vestpocket war in the Formosa Strait — 57,746 Communist shells in 5½ hours — Thursday forced two Nationalist supply ships off Quemoy beach before they could unload more than a small part of their cargo.

Nine other landing ships could not even get to the beach. Newsmen on the scene reported at least 40 Nationalist soldiers were wounded in the bombardment.

Thirteen warships of the U.S. 7th Fleet which had escorted the convoy from the Pescadores Islands remained 3 to 12 miles off the beach, in line with U.S. policy not to incur the risk of a shooting duel with the Communists. The Americans ignored Peiping's recent declaration extending Communist China's territorial waters 12 miles to seaward, holding instead to the traditional three-mile limit.

Boys reported to girl's gym classes and vice versa, voice students found themselves in the band, and a study hall with a capacity of 100 bulged with 160 pupils.

Principal Walter Gammeter said it was the worst snafu he had seen in 34 years of class programming. "There evidently were errors on both sides," said the principal. He explained that his students probably made a mass of clerical errors last spring when they filled out the punch cards the brain lives on.

A reporter visited the school Thursday and saw seven psychology students sitting on the floor of a filled classroom.

"This," their teacher remarked dryly, "is the result of automation."

Columbusites Tied to Bogus Money Orders

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two Columbus men were arrested here today as federal agents moved in to smash a large-scale and "highly successful" counterfeit postal money order ring.

Postal inspectors declined to say how much cash value is involved, or how big the ring is, but an investigator said there may be as many as 30 members. The ring reportedly was operating in Ohio and Pennsylvania.

A Post Office spokesman indicated that this is the first case of counterfeit money orders ever reported in the 94-year-old history of U.S. Postal money orders.

The investigation apparently began here after a Cleveland woman, Miss Betty Ann Evans, 24, was arrested by federal agents in Cleveland and charged with passing a counterfeit money order. Cleveland postal inspectors said about 50 $95 counterfeit orders have been cashed in Cleveland, Columbus, Worthington, Toledo, Dayton, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh.

Arrested here today were Collins Haynesworth, 34, and Robert Lee Wiley, 33. They are being held for investigation of forgery. Postal Inspector T. J. Meehan said agents are still out on the streets rounding up ring members.

Electronic Gadget Fouls High School

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A noble electronic experiment in education—believed the first of its kind in the United States—has short-circuited St. Louis' biggest high school.

It was hoped that the first two days of school—which began Sept. 4—could be used for instruction instead of untangling just where everybody belonged.

The Board of Education and officials of the 2,000-pupil Beaumont High School assigned an electric brain to channel students to classrooms and class periods. The machine gave out cards telling students which classes to attend.

But seven days later the halls and classrooms are still clogged with about 700 wanderers, perplexed students.

Boys reported to girl's gym classes and vice versa, voice students found themselves in the band, and a study hall with a capacity of 100 bulged with 160 pupils.

Principal Walter Gammeter said it was the worst snafu he had seen in 34 years of class programming.

Cub Pack Meet Called

A committee meeting of Cub Pack 52 of the First Methodist Church, will be held at 7 p. m. Tuesday in the church annex.

Pack officials urged all boys and parents interested in the Cub Pack to attend.

He said the ring has been highly successful, but declined to give details on its method of operation.

"We can't say any more until we pick up everybody involved," he said. "We're in the process of rounding them up now."

Some equipment used to print the fake money orders was reportedly confiscated.

Hamilton Area Factory Burns

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Fire starting in a can of paint thinner, destroyed the plant of the Butler Manufacturing Co., at Bethany, 11 miles east of here, late Thursday.

The loss at the factory, which made wooden mattress frames, was estimated unofficially at $250,000.

Earl Hiteshue, chief of the Monroe Fire Department, said that although employees sought to get the burning can of paint thinner out of the building, the flames spread to sawdust and quickly enveloped the frame structure.

Several firemen were burned slightly but no one was hospitalized.

U.S. May Assume Toll Roads

Soon after Congress convenes in January there will be a recommendation from the Department of Commerce as to what federal policy should be on toll roads. The toll roads are ultra-modern expressways between cities and serve all the purposes of the federal interstate system.

It would be inexcusable to duplicate them with interstate highways. Tolls will be charged until, and if, the federal government buys them.

And there's the rub. Cost of the interstate system, minus turnpikes, has already been marked up $10 billion above first estimates — to $37 billion. An additional $5 billion would be added to that if the turnpikes, and some acceptable freeways the states have completed, were purchased.

The thinking in Washington is to continue charging tolls, even after turnpikes are absorbed into the federal system, until the bonds are pretty well paid off and the cost of purchase is far lower.

But if it becomes federal policy to take over the turnpikes at a later date, it will in effect guarantee turnpike bonds, canceling any possible obligation of the states. That will bring a sigh of relief in state capitals as toll roads inevitably suffer in coming years from the competition of modern federal freeways.

School Youths Dress Up

When the 45 million youngsters of the United States move back to school, their average expenditures are estimated at $55 each, or nearly $2.5 billion. This covers broadly school supplies and apparel.

This is quite a shot in the arm for the nation's business. But this time, according to reports from across the country, the nation's business was caught short in the apparel phase. Some prospective customers will have to come back later for what they want.

Prominent among the reasons for shortages is a tendency of school boys and girls to dress up. The jeans era is being relegated in favor of neater appearances in classrooms. There are also steady gains in demand for uniforms as more and more school activities call for special attire.

It is explained manufacturers did not fully anticipate these trends and advise retailers to stock up for demand. Probably both were influenced by an earlier need to reduce inventories.

Such shifts and trends are very much a part of the business dynamism of America. If they were lacking, the gross national product would be far less than it is.

Today's Youth: No Boundaries

NEW YORK (AP) — Changing American youth in a single generation has changed its problems, too.

"When we were young," said Ruth Hagy, "money and security were the big problems—and money meant security."

"The younger generation now is also interested in security. But to it a real world, ease, not money, stands for security."

"We had to learn to be internationalists. The young people of today were born into a world without boundaries—and are at home in it."

"They are often more interested in international than national problems. Hopes for peace which seem impossible to us seem quite possible to them."

Miss Hagy, a dark-haired, handsome grandmother, is financial chairman of the National Student Assn., and producer-moderator of the ABC-TV Sunday network show College News Conference.

Since 1952 more than 1,000 student leaders have appeared on the program, interviewing scientific, political and military figures. Some of their questions have been so pertinent and probing the celebrities were left shaken.

Miss Hagy, a former Philadelphia newspaperwoman, became interested in youth work because she thought the field was being neglected.

"The student was a vital political force in every country but our own," she said.

"But our younger generation was being called delinquent, silent beat, and a victim of too much conformity."

She believes America's youth today is largely idealistic, interested in good government, and willing to take on civic responsibility.

"Kids are afraid of being called a square," she remarked. "The good students need to be recognized equally as the athlete or social big wheel on the campus, and they are getting to be."

"There has been a general change in the climate of the country, off campus and on. It's no disgrace to be a good student. It's fashionable. And there is more of a realization that the college student leaders are our political leaders of tomorrow."

"Leadership stands out early. It needs to be recognized and trained."

Miss Hagy has carefully followed the budding career of most of the student leaders who appeared on her program.

"They are doing terrifically well," she said. "A number are taking active roles in political parties."

"The White House has two of our kids. Two more are in the vice president's office. The State Department has six. Fourteen are working as administrative or legislative assistants to senators."

To her knowledge not one of the 1,000-plus student leaders has become an adult delinquent. None has been arrested for forging a check, holding up a bank, or bribing a mayor.

A Struggle over Ideals

While bankers and brokers and lawyers and politicians trick and connive and pat themselves on the chest for their genius and the things they get away with, their world moves on to destruction. We are not near the final stages of a continuing revolution, which after 40 years, we still do not know how to meet.

Essentially our struggle is over beliefs and it has been human experience that those who have ideals and beliefs, however erroneous, will triumph over those whose faith is a vacuum and whose sole concern in life is materialistic. It is this which Americans, as a people, have not been able or willing to understand. This is the way "Pravda" assesses the situation:

"The great and unconquerable teaching of Marxism-Leninism is every day winning new, outstanding victories. It lights the way for workers of the world in the struggle for their bright future. The greatest event of our time has been the formation of the mighty world socialist system. Marxism-Leninism has achieved a historic victory in countries whose territory amounts to a quarter of the world and whose population is about one billion people. If only recently the Soviet Union was the only country of triumphant socialism, now a whole number of people's democratic countries are setting about the accomplishment of socialist construction."

This is heady language and means much more than an extra bathtub or less toll. It means faith and the kind of faith that the early Christians knew when they set out to conquer the world for ideas which they were sure to be true.

Watching the television, I am importuned, as you are, to be sure to vote on Election Day. This being an advertisement of the Advertising Council or the American Heritage Foundation, it is impartial. It does not recommend a candidate or denounce one. It does not lay down a guide to current issues.

All it says is that the citizen go through the mechanism of voting. Where I vote, this can be done secretly in a booth, facing a machine. It is not really necessary to vote for anyone to get out of the booth. The partisan has an easy time of it. He votes for his party's nominees, good,

Are You Sure You're Eligible As A Voter?

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Are you eligible to vote in November? You believe you are?

There's a 15 per cent chance you're wrong.

That's the calculation of a non-partisan group organized recently to spur voter registration. It calls itself Voters' Information Program (VIP).

B. H. Oakley, a VIP trustee, says recent studies indicate that more than 15 per cent of potential voters in such counties as Cuyahoga, Summit, Montgomery and Clark are ineligible to vote even though they believe they are. The Franklin County figure is 10 per cent, he estimates.

Oakley said the estimates were based, in part, in the results of election board checking of petitions to put a union shop ban proposal on the November ballot.

"We found that apparently 15.6 of all those who signed petitions, presumably under the impression that they were eligible to vote, were either rightly or wrongly eliminated," Oakley pointed out.

bad or indifferent. Maybe he knows one or two personally and he would not lend them any money, but he votes for them anyhow because they belong to his party.

The independent, as he is called, has a more difficult time. He knows that issues are more readily enunciated than believed. He therefore votes for the Man. He is presented by the two major parties with two men. He looks them over and wonders how it came about. There must be a system.

Elections, as recently as 40 years ago, were tremendously exciting occasions because the Republic was a reality to most citizens. It was not merely a government that sat in Washington or in a state capital; it was something that represented the will of the people or something that had failed and the people had to get rid of to preserve the Republic.

Now the government is a mechanism of bureaus and offices and tax collectors. The Fourth Republic in France collapsed because it meant nothing more than a congeries of bureaus and offices and civil servants and politicians who clung to their jobs that alone meant bread. And they live by bread alone.

In the United States no such leadership as De Gaulle this year or Winston Churchill in 1940 has yet appeared and we move from election to election choosing glamor men. It may yet come that we shall select a man for the perfection of his choice of neckties. It is interesting that before World War II appeared, Professor Pitirim A. Sorokin of Harvard, one of the few prophetic voices in this country, wrote (1937):

"... The oblique rays of the sun still illumine the glory of the passing epoch. But the light is fading, and in the deepening shadows it becomes more and more difficult to see clearly and to orient ourselves safely in the confusions of the twilight. The night of the transitory period begins to loom before us, with its nightmares, frightening shadows, and heartrending horrors. Beyond it, however, the dawn of a new great idealistic culture is probably waiting to greet the men of the future."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

PIERCE HARRIS tells about a kindly country parson who had just married a young couple and had a parting word for the groom: "Bless you, my son. You're at the end of all your trouble." A year later, the groom returned to moan, "What a year I've gone through! And you're the one who told me I was at the end of my trouble."

"So I did, Son," soothed the parson, "I just didn't tell you which end."

One of the masterpieces of literature is Gibbon's voluminous "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire." And what did England's Duke of Gloucester (brother of King George III) say when, in 1781, author Gibbon presented him with the just-published work?

Here, according to Gibbon's diary, were the good Duke's words: "What? More of those damned, fat, square, thick books? Always scribble, scribble, scribble, eh, Mr. Gibbon?"

Most Sleep Comes Slowly

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

"I was so tired last night that I fell asleep as soon as my head touched the pillow."

Most of you, I dare say, have made this statement to friends at one time or another. Yet I doubt that it was quite accurate. Even without intending to, you probably exaggerated a bit.

Sleep, as a rule, just doesn't come that suddenly. In fact, it comes gradually and varies in depth. Besides, all of your body doesn't fall asleep at the same time.

Sleep actually consists of eight different levels. It ranges from the relaxed, yet wide-awake level, to a very deep sleep. Generally, we say a person is asleep when he reaches the sixth level, although real sleep may come toward the lower part of the fifth level.

The fifth level is a dreamlike state in which the sleeper is easily awakened. The sixth level is classified as "light sleep."

Your various organs and senses fall asleep at different times, first one and then another. As for the organs, the large muscles of the back, legs and arms quiet down first. Then the smaller muscles, such as those of the hands and feet, go to sleep. Finally, the smallest muscles, the eyebrows, lips and eyelids become quiet.

The senses also fall asleep in turn with the power to effect conscious movement, the sense of smell being the first to relax. Then vision, hearing and the sense of touch go to sleep in that order.

What causes us to sleep at all

The New York State Department of Commerce says the average business firm wastes about 63 cents of every dollar it spends for paper work. Apparently that's why there are so many average business firms.

Inflation has helped, though. With the 48-cent dollar, the 63 cents only runs to about 31 cents.

The department says the average business spends $1.85 checking paperwork to save 87 cents. Evidently 87 cents saved is $1.85 urned.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has offered no solution to the trouble around Formosa except to suggest negotiation with the Red Chinese and to warn them not to push their luck.

Neither idea is new. His broadcast Thursday night seemed to have a double purpose: to explain to the public why this country might get involved in fighting and to emphasize to the Communists we'd fight if necessary.

One thing he did do: he hinted more strongly than ever before the United States would use armed force against the Red Chinese if they actually attempted to capture the Quemoy and Matsu islands. So far they've only been bombarding the islands from the mainland.

Only a week ago Secretary of State Dulles, with Eisenhower's approval, released a 90-word statement saying the President had not yet decided what we'd do if the Reds tried to take Quemoy and Matsu.

Those islands, close to the mainland, are held by the Nationalist troops of Chiang Kai-shek, an American ally, whose main forces are on Formosa, 100 miles from the coast.

But what Eisenhower left unanswered was this: what we'd try to negotiate with the Communists if we sat down to talk with them. He said this country would not appease the Reds by letting them capture Quemoy and Matsu.

But if in negotiation it was agreed the Reds could have the islands—if they'd just stop shooting—that in itself would be an act of appeasement. It would be yielding to their threat to use force if they didn't get the islands.

But Eisenhower seemed to rule that out unless Chiang Kai-shek agrees. He said: "Naturally, the United States will adhere to the position it first took in 1955, that we will not in these talks (with the Red Chinese) be a party to any arrangement which would prejudice the rights of our ally, the Republic of China."

That follows the same line laid down by Dulles earlier this week when, asked if the United States would negotiate the future of the islands, provided the Reds stopped using force, he said: "The United States is not in a position to negotiate the future of property which it does not own and which belongs to another and friendly government (Chiang's Nationalist government on Formosa)."

Since Chiang depends on the United States for his existence, it shouldn't be difficult for the United States, if it wanted to, to pressure him into yielding the offshore islands.

But if letting the Red Chinese have those islands—provided they stop shooting—is ruled out, what can this country possibly negotiate with the Communists? Perhaps nothing at all.

It's possible, if such negotiations broke down, that the problem would be dumped on the United Nations. There an effort might be made by U.N. members, who think Red China should have the islands, to work out something like this:

Neutralizing the islands, or letting the Reds have them, and then putting Formosa itself under a U.N. trusteeship instead of letting the Reds have that too.

Such a trusteeship would, of course, mean the end of Chiang's regime. He'd have to go to some friendly asylum elsewhere. But this is all pretty iffy. Both Chiang and the Red Chinese might reject any such proposal.

But if the solution doesn't lie somewhere in these ideas, then any solution at all seems remote and the world can just hope the present shooting stops short of war.

Deputy Discovers Woman Clad in Handful of Grass

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — Deputy Sheriff Carl Lindner sped to a rural section of Scioto County Thursday to investigate a report of a nude female body lying along the side of a secluded road.

He found the body, all right, but by then it was up and walking. Mrs. Alice Benson, a 48-year-old 200-pounder was strolling along. Lindner reported, clad only in a handful of wild grass draped over each shoulder.

Back at the county jail, Lindner said, Mrs. Benson was unable to explain her predicament or the whereabouts of her clothing. She didn't appear at all embarrassed until she had to divulge her weight.

The deputy said he plans to file intoxication charges in Municipal Court as soon as Mrs. Benson obtains suitable clothing for an appearance. She's wearing garments borrowed from other women inmates, but they're too small.

Justice in Economic Life

SOME DIVINE STANDARDS FOR HONESTY AND CON-DEMNATION OF DISHONEST PRACTICES

Scripture—Exodus 20:15; Leviticus 6:4; 25:35-38; Deuteronomy 25:13-16; Proverbs 11:1; Amos 8:4-8; Luke 19:1-10; James 5:1-8; 1 Peter 4:7-11.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

THE SUBJECT of today's lesson is "Justice in Economic Life," which means the world of business as well as our private lives. It begins with the words from Exodus 20:15, "Thou shalt not steal," which we used in our last lesson.

Stealing is not confined to those who commit crimes for which they are punished, such as picking pockets, shoplifting, holding up people to rob them, bank robbery, etc. It may be and sometimes is practiced in business relations if the men involved see that they may benefit in a dishonest way.

In our great nation, where so much business is transacted daily and millions of dollars change hands, there are some who are not above making themselves richer by dishonest conduct. Fortunately they are relatively few in number.

MEMORY VERSE

"He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much; and he that is unjust in the least is unjust also in much."—Luke 16:10.

The law, as laid down by the Lord in Leviticus, reads that if a man sin by lying to his neighbor, deceiving him, and profiting by so doing, "Then it shall be, because he hath sinned, and is guilty, that he shall restore that which he took violently away, or the thing which he hath deceitfully gotten, or that which was delivered him to keep, or the lost thing which he found."—Leviticus 6:4.

The same book of our Bible tells us how we should treat a sick and poverty-stricken brother, "If thy brother be waxen poor, and fallen in decay with thee; then thou shalt relieve him: yea, though he be a stranger, or a sojourner; that thou may live with thee. Take thou no usury of him, or increase."—Leviticus 25:35, 36. Usury means interest on money beyond the current rate of interest; the practice of lending money at exorbitant interest.

The punishment due to ill treatment of the poor and needy is set forth in the book of Amos: "Hear this, O ye that swallow up the needy, even to make the poor of the land to fail, saying, When will the new moon be gone, that we may sell corn? and the sabbath, that we may set forth wheat, making the ephah (a dry measure of the ancient Hebrews) small, and the shekel great, and falsifying the balances by deceit? "That we may buy the poor for silver, and the needy for a pair of shoes; yea, and sell the refuse of the wheat?" The Lord hath sworn by the excellency of Jacob, Surely I will never forget any of their works."—Amos 8:4-7.

Let us now turn from the study of deceitful practices to St. Luke's delightful story of Zacchaeus, the small man who climbed into a tree when Jesus was passing through Jericho, so that he could see Him better. Jesus saw this small but wealthy publican or tax gatherer, and called on him to come down, for He, Christ would abide with him that night.

Zacchaeus came down promptly. Standing before the Lord, he said joyfully: "Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have taken any thing from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold." Such was the influence of Jesus on this man who at one time may have been dishonest in his business, but was a reformed character. Christ said to him: "This day salvation is come to this house, forasmuch as he also is a son of Abraham."—Luke 19:1-9.

The Apostle James also has some stern words to those who grow wealthy by dishonesty. He warns them that their riches are corrupted by their dishonesty to the laborers whom they have hired, and whose wages they have kept back by fraud. "And the cries of them which have reaped are entered into the ears of the Lord."—James 5:4.

Let us all follow our Bible's teaching, living honorable lives, never cheating our business associates, our friends or the government of our glorious land, where we enjoy such freedom if we are upright and honorable in all our dealings.

Dr. Galloway has spent his life in the Nazarene ministry. Since 1943, he has been superintendent of the Central Ohio district of his church. It comprises 127 churches with more than 11,000 members in a 35-county area from Lake Erie to the Ohio river. Central Ohio district is one of the strongest of 72 districts in the denomination.

He is serving his third 4-year term on the Church General Board, chief denominational administrative body, and also is president of this board.

Dr. Galloway is a trustee of the Nazarene Theological seminary, in Kansas City, and also for many years has been trustee of Olivet Nazarene College, Kankakee, Ill., his alma mater, which conferred an honorary doctoral degree upon him in 1950. He has done graduate work at the University of Cincinnati and has two grown sons.

Rev. Varnell New Minister Church of God

The Rev. R. J. Varnell, 35, of Chattanooga, Tenn., is the new pastor for the Church of God on junctions 22 and 56. He will replace the Rev. Carpenter.

The Rev. Varnell is former pastor of North Tunnel Blvd. Church of God, Chattanooga, Tenn. He is a graduate of Lee College, Cleveland, Tenn.; three years ministerial course and two junior college.

He has been a licensed minister since 1947. During his pastoral experiences he has had four churches in Pennsylvania and Tennessee.

The Rev. Varnell is married and has three children, Glenda, 13, Darlene, 11 and Michael Ray, 2.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: We have been married 14 months and have a 4-months-old baby. I am much in love with my husband and happily married until now—when I am wondering if my husband is still attached to his mother's apronstring.

His parents live 30 miles from here. Since our marriage we've exchanged 12 visits, and there have been numerous telephone calls, made by them and Steve (my husband), running our phone bill up quite high.

We made our seventh trip to them two months ago, when the baby was two months old—a miserable journey. Two weeks ago, my in-laws were here on their vacation. Now Steve has a week's vacation coming at the end of the month, and his parents are expecting us there.

After talking it over between ourselves and deciding the trip is unfeasible, as the baby can't sit up yet, and I can't hold him on my lap for six hours, we wrote last week that we weren't coming. Now we've just had a letter saying they feel they've had "A body blow," can't understand why we can't make it, etc.

Whereupon my husband says to me, if I can't stand the trip he'll go alone; that, after all, I have him 51 weeks a year; and they can have him this one week. I think his vacation should be spent with his wife and son? Do you?

DEAR F.C.: A right-minded man, at peace with his parents, secure in a good relationship with them, would give first preference to his wife and children, in choosing companions for a vacation—especially in the early years of marriage and fatherhood, when the

Tigers Eye Clash With Athens Squad Here Tonight

Zero hour almost is at hand for Circleville High School's 1958 edition football squad.

The clash of gridiron will be heard tonight on the local gridiron when Athens rolls into town to test the Tiger machine. Kickoff time is set for 8 p. m.

Perfect football weather appears to be in the making for tonight's test, the opening game for both Circleville and Athens. On hand to make the evening complete will be the Circleville Marching Band which will perform for the pregame flag raising and halftime ceremonies.

Little is known about the Athens squad, although the Bulldog roster indicates that only two seniors are on the team. The rest of the roster is made up of 19 juniors and 17 sophomores.

THE BULLDOGS will be paced by Claire Ball, tackle and captain who weighs 185. The roster also lists Richard Bacon and Tom Norris, both tackles weighing in at 200.

A comparison of rosters indicates that the Tigers will have a slight weight advantage in both the line and backfield. The edge in speed remains to be seen tonight.

Last year the Bulldogs trounced Circleville, 19-0, at Athens. Coach Tom Bennett and staff are hoping the outcome will be reversed tonight.

Coach Bennett said right half Walt Arledge definitely will not see action tonight due to a pulled leg muscle suffered in last Friday's preview. However, the hardhitting halfback is expected to be ready after a few more days rest.

Ray Phifer has been moved to the left half post and Roger Wolfe has taken over at left half. Larry Hannans seems to have the fullback job nailed down as does Tom Greeno at quarterback.

Replacement strength for the backfield will be provided by right half Arch Ward and utility back Dick Birchler. Both can carry the mail and also work on defense.

WORKING with the first string line in last night's practice were ends Jim Woods and Dan Leonard, tackles Bill Perkins and Harry Strawser, guards Asa Elisea and Dave Huffer and center Brent Bell.

Other capable replacements, especially on defense, will be Harold Arledge and Ernie Linley, linebackers, and Rupert Rudd, lineman.

Steve Yost, sophomore end, and Joe Rooney, junior center, also can be counted on for replacement defensive work.

Ted Williams Now Tied for AL Bat Title

After Rough Season, Splendid Splinter Starts Waving Timber

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Well, well, look who's tied for the American League batting lead. A guy named Williams from Boston.

It's been a long haul. All that fuss over his ankle in the spring, and missing opening day because of food poisoning. He didn't get over 300 until July 1. Then he had another spit spat with a booing crowd.

He spent his 40th birthday fighting a virus. The sickness kept him out of action from Aug. 24 to last Tuesday, when he was fifth in the batting race at .315.

He has gone 5-for-11 since, tying teammate Pete Runnels for the lead at .320 Thursday with a 2-for-4 day as the Red Sox lost 4-1 at Chicago. Right behind is Bob Cerv of Kansas City at .319, with Cleveland's Vic Power fourth at .315.

Williams, shooting for his sixth title (although a far cry from his winning .388 of last season, drove in the lone Boston run as the White Sox swept the three-game set and took a 3½-game lead over the Red Sox for second place.

The New York Yankees, who could clinch the pennant Sunday, were idle. They open a two-game set at Chicago tonight with a 10½-game lead and their magic number at five.

Washington took a season series from Detroit for the first time since 1954 by beating the Tigers 7-6, and Kansas City belted Baltimore 7-1 in the only other AL games scheduled.

Philadelphia beat Los Angeles 4-3 in the only National League game.

Dick Donovan (13-13) threw a seven-hitter for the White Sox. But he needed Turk Lown's mop-up after he gave up his only two walks (one to Runnels, who was 1-for-3) and Williams' single in the eighth inning. The White Sox counted their four in the fifth. Two-out, two-run singles by Jim Landis and Nellie Fox did it against Ike Delock (12-7).

Roy Sievers and Albie Pearson each drove in two runs for the Senators. John Romonosky (2-4) worked in relief. He retired the first 17 men he faced, but needed Ted Clevenger's help to put down a three-run Tiger try in the ninth. Al Cicotte (3-4) lost it.

Ned Garver, knocked off the Birds for the fourth time in six decisions this season with a four-hitter. They scored on two singles and a fly ball in the third inning, but Garver (12-10), a Comeback of the Year possibility, gave up only one more hit, none after the fifth. Preston Ward's sacrifice fly gave the A's a 2-1 lead in the fifth against Billy O'Dell (14-11). Cerv's lone hit was his 33rd home run, a two-out shot that capped a five-run eighth.

Browns Ready For Duel with Mighty Bears

CHICAGO (AP)—Five Cleveland Browns will play their last football game in that uniform tonight in the exhibition game against the Chicago Bears in Soldier Field.

Their names have not been disclosed yet, for they are the five Coach Paul Brown must cut in getting the squad to 38 by next Tuesday.

The Bears, back under "Papa" George Halas, are rolling along undefeated in four pre-season tests. More than 50,000 are expected at Chicago's Soldier Field to watch the rejuvenated Midway Monsters meet the Cleveland Browns (2-2) in the 13th annual Armed Forces Game.

Other games tonight match the Chicago Cardinals (1-2-1) and the Pittsburgh Steelers (2-2) at St. Louis, and the San Francisco 49ers (3-1) and the Rams (2-2) at Los Angeles.

Saturday night it's Detroit (2-1) vs Philadelphia (1-3) at Norman, Okla., and Green Bay (2-1) vs Washington (2-2) at Winston Salem, N. C. New York (1-3) is at Baltimore (0-3-1) Sunday afternoon.

Broncos Meet Berne Union

Ashville's grid Broncos opened the season tonight with a trip to Berne Union.

It will mark the first test of a 7-game schedule for Coach Russ Gregg's outfit. The team is sparked by several lettermen from last year's team and appears to be a balanced crew.

Ashville's first three games will be on the road, with the first home test slated October 3 with Madison South. Home games will be played at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

The Broncos again will participate in the Darby Valley League. Other members of this loop are Mt. Sterling, Madison South, West Jefferson, Greenview and Jonathan Alder.

Indians To Host Boston Red Sox

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians, bidding for a first-division finish in the American League, take on the Boston Red Sox at Municipal Stadium tonight.

One of the Tribe's most promising young pitchers, Gary Bell, will take the mound for Cleveland. Boston will go with southpaw Ted Bowsfield, who has yet to lose a game in three decisions. Bell is 9-8 for the season.

Both teams were disappointed in recent games.

The Indians were drubbed 8-3 Wednesday by the New York Yankees before a Back-the-Indians night crowd of 50,021—the largest single-game crowd at Municipal Stadium since 1955.

The popular contest was directed by Bishop Given. Each entry was allowed two tries in an effort to land the plug in tires placed at various distances.

Redlegs Fighting For First Division

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs are back home again to open a series with the Chicago Cubs. They are faced again with a bitter fight to the finish in the National League's first division and a cut of the World Series money.

As late as last Sunday night the Redlegs seemed to be on their way to clinch a spot in the first division. They had won 12 of their last 14 games, had a 2½ game margin over fifth place St. Louis and were closing in on San Francisco and Pittsburgh.

Then came a defeat at the hands of Pittsburgh Monday night and two straight setbacks at Milwaukee.

New York heavyweight Tony Anthony is a former National AAU and Golden Gloves lightweight boxing champion.

Houston Calm In Big Team Bid

Syndicate Is Formed, But Is In No Hurry

HOUSTON (AP)—Businessmen hoping to bring major league baseball to Houston say they have a definite plan that will be developed only on an orderly basis.

"We have applications on file with both the National and American leagues but the proper time for formal appearances before the leagues will come when we have our own house a little bit more in order," said Craig Cullinan Jr., head of a syndicate seeking the franchise.

Cullinan's group spearheaded a successful campaign that saw Harris County residents on July 26 approve a 20-million-dollar revenue bond proposal for a county stadium and sports center. Cullinan, however, emphasizes that much preliminary work still must be done.

"The way I look at it is that the major league people have a right to expect that we prove to them that we mean business," said Cullinan, an heir to an oil fortune. "We intend to do that and right now we face a double-barreled situation—getting sufficient leases to support the stadium and getting the stadium built."

"The new County Board of Park Commissioners already has architects and engineers at work studying possible sites and developing other studies," he said.

Busch Stadium, home of the class AA Texas League Houston Buffs, seats only 12,000 and its parking facilities are limited.

Houston frequently has been among the leaders in minor league attendance this year is expected to be only about 120,000 compared with 152,000 a year ago.

Major leaguers in Houston would play before fans from throughout the giant industrial area that dots the upper Texas Gulf Coast. Houston is the heart of the area and has an estimated 910,000 residents. There will be nearly three million within a radius of 150 miles of the new stadium.

Major league baseball would receive sharp competition from such other athletic events in Houston as collegiate football and boxing.

National Amateur Semifinals Slated

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A rawhide-tough ex-champion, two surprised collegians and a virtual unknown today battled in the 36-hole semifinal round of the 58th National Amateur Golf Championships.

The bracketing assured a college player in the final for the first time since 1951 as Dick Foote, a junior at UCLA, met Tom Aaron, a Florida senior. Texan Billy Maxwell won it that year.

In the other semi — two 34-year-olds dueling — Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City who won the national title in 1949 and Roger McManus of Cincinnati who says he hopes he's a better salesman than a golfer.

Rookie Sets Pace In Denver Open

DENVER (AP)—Young Tommy Jacobs, a skinny freshman on the professional golf circuit, ignored the big pack of favorites and 90-degree heat Thursday to post an early lead in the $20,000 Denver Open Centennial Golf Tournament.

The 23-year-old rookie from Whittier, Calif., carded six birdies for a five-under par 32-33-65 over 6,642 - yard Wellshire Municipal Course.

Trailing him by a stroke were two other comparative newcomers, John McMullin, 23, of Fair Oaks, Calif., and Bill Parker, 28, of Wewoka, Okla. Then followed the tourney veterans within easy striking distance.

California Entry Tagged Biggest Threat in Brown Jug

DELAWARE—The California comet, Shadow Wave, today loomed as a stern threat to Little Brown Jug favorite Bye Bye Byrd. The $70,000 renewal of the Delaware 3-year-old pacing championship will be staged here next Thursday afternoon.

Shadow Wave, Bye Bye Byrd and the cream of this year's crop of sophomore sidewheelers are expected to attract a crowd of 40,000 to the Delaware Fair Grand Circuit harness program.

Throughout the current season Shadow Wave has awed harness fans with his accomplishments. He has been particularly impressive the last three weeks in which he recorded mile times of 1:59.3 and 2:00 and was a threatening factor in chasing Bye Bye Byrd out in his world's record shattering time of 1:57.4.

The handsome chestnut son of Adios and Shadow Grattan will be reined in his Jug engagement by Joey O'Brien, harness wizard who won every major stake in the pacing and trotting sport except the Jug. He's had Brown Jug starters but has been plagued by bad luck. The best he's been able to do is post a pair of seconds.

Many horsemen are of the opinion that O'Brien can get the job done with Shadow Wave, property of the S.A. Camp Farms, Shafter, Calif. Most of his races have been against aged competition which in nearly every instance he's handled with ease. Since he didn't get to the races as a 2-year-old, he was not kept eligible to many of the leading 3-year-old stakes and futurities.

Hutchinson May Quit as Cardinal Pilot

MILWAUKEE (AP)—If bosses of the St. Louis Cardinals don't hurry up and publicly fire Fred Hutchinson as manager, he might beat them to the punch.

Club officials insist they won't make a final decision until the season ends, despite reports he already is out.

But Hutchinson disclosed upon the club's arrival here that he already has received four "solid offers for jobs," is not giving definite answers on them for the time being "but I probably will in about 10 days."

That will be a week before the regular season ends and the time set by the Cardinals brass for a definite decision.

If Hutchinson should announce acceptance of another baseball job around Sept. 21, the Cardinals might not be ready to announce his successor.

Alvin Dark, the veteran 35-year-old infielder traded by the Cardinals to the Chicago Cubs earlier this season, is believed to have the inside track for the job if the Cardinals are willing to pay the price in baseball talent that it will take to get him back.

The only way the Cardinals could acquire Dark before Sept. 29—the day after the season ends and eight days after Hutch indicated he will make his own decision—is on waivers.

3 Women Escapees Returned to Custody

MARYSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Three escapees from the Marysville Reformatory for women are back in custody after authorities found them Thursday hiding under a bridge just outside Marysville. The three are Mrs. Margaret Louise Allpin, 24; Leah Jane Napper, 20, and Miss Elisha Sidney, 19. Reformatory officials said they broke out Wednesday night by lowering themselves from a second-story window with a rope made of sweaters.

HERE WE GO AGAIN—That time of the year is here again when the auto manufacturers are just about ready to unveil next year's models—and "sneak" photos start popping up. This 1959 Buick allegedly is on the run to avoid photographers. Three of the cars were being serviced in a Denver filling station, and a photographer was tipped off. A new car on a used car lot will show up next.

Danger of Major War Looms Large

Problem Unsolved: Supplying Quemoy

MAKUNG CITY, Pescadores (AP)—Nationalist China's unsuccessful attempt to land new supplies Thursday in its besieged offshore island of Quemoy underscores a grim fact—the Communist blockade is highly effective and critically serious.

Unless a remedy is found, this Nationalist fortress off the Red China coast could eventually fall from attrition.

Not even U.S. 7th Fleet escort, as presently constituted, or Nationalist Chinese courage in ramming their supply ships right up onto the beach can alter the fact that the Chinese Communists can make the landing areas untenable whenever they desire.

No ship could have survived the thunderous barrage the Red mainland siege guns hurled at the four ships that tried to unload Thursday. They had to pull back to the open sea.

Aircraft landing strips on Quemoy are subject to just as intense radar-guided fire, virtually shutting off any serious hope of resupply by air.

Parachute supply drops are perhaps feasible but hardly a workable method for supplying a garrison the Nationalists now estimate to number 80,000 to 100,000 troops.

This leaves very few other possibilities.

A much faster landing operation might provide some hope. Thursday's convoy was on or close in to the beach 40 minutes before the shelling began.

If the landing ships had carried supply-loaded amphibious vehicles they could have sent these dashing for shore and been out of the danger zone within a few minutes. It is possible the Communists deliberately waited before they started their attack. It is also possible that it takes that long for their radar to determine definitely where the ships are. In this case, swift unloading might work.

The Nationalists feel their only real solution is to knock out the estimated 4,000 Communist guns ringing Quemoy with everything that can be thrown at them—aerial bombardment, naval gunfire and aircraft rocket attacks.

And herein lies perhaps the danger of the offshore island crisis erupting into a major war.

Whether American planes and ships participated, such an attack would be an attack against the Communist mainland. The Soviet Union has warned this could bring its forces into the war.

It is doubtful the Nationalists have sufficient power to carry out the job alone. Their navy has no ships larger than destroyers. Their heavy bombardment aircraft are all of World War II vintage.

Their crews are highly trained and ready but hardly equipped to fight through the swarms of modern Communist MIG17 fighters which the Reds could throw against them from five bases in the area.

Heavy fire from Nationalist guns during landing operations might take off the heat from the beaches and make the supplying procedure at least a feasible risk.

But where would it come from? The Nationalists on Quemoy have every reason to hoard their present reserves. And the Nationalist navy does not have the gun power. U.S. 7th Fleet ships have stayed discreetly outside the three-mile limit America recognizes as Chinese territorial waters. So far as is known they have not and will not fire on Communist targets unless they are attacked.

There seems little possibility for the moment that the 7th Fleet would undertake the job of eliminating the Communist guns.

This leaves perhaps only the negotiating table to provide a solution. And one thing is certain. One must be found. No fortress can stand indefinitely without supplies.
